About Atlantic to Age

BOSTON, May 3.—The good ship Richmond, Captain Ballard, arrived here today on a rum cruise, if there ever was one.

Bertillon measurements and photographs of the prisoner, and it was through these that the identification was made.

PITTSBURG PICTURE STIRS UP THE PUBLIC

Once More Public Objects to Painting of Maiden—This
One by Sauter.

PITTSBURG, May 3.—The fine picture "The Maiden Morning," which was painted by George Sauter, of London and shown at the recent annual international art exhibit here and took second prize, will become as unpopular with the Pittsburgh masses as did the famous "The Bath," by La Touche, which took first prize some years ago and was promptly hissed and hoisted from the Carnegie Art Gallery walls.

The principal in Sauter's masterpiece appears in no more clothing than worn by the lady of "The Bath," hence Pittsburgh howls. Hundreds of letters are being written, and the newspapers are calling attention to the unclothed condition of the bride, whose two dressing maids are evidently hesitating as to what they shall put on her for the day.

The thieves had pried open a rear door and had worked without interruption, as the building was not occupied.

The services today will be attended by the principal officers of the government and of the United States at present on the Canal Zone.

WESTERN EXPRESS BUSINESS ABSORBED

Wells, Fargo Company
Takes Over Interests of St. Paul Lines.

MINNEAPOLIS, May 3.—The immense express business of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul lines was taken over at midnight by the Wells Fargo Express Company. Great significance is seen in the fact that Edward H. Harriman and the Southern Pacific railroad own the controlling interests in the company, and it is believed that Harriman is applying the same methods to the development of the express business that he has adopted with such success in the expansion of his railways.

The company's other acquisitions include the express business on the Copper Range railroad from Massachusetts, Michigan, to Calumet, Mich.; the Escanaba and Lake Superior railroad, the Mineral Point and Northern railroad, the Keweenaw Central railroad, the Chicago, Lake Shore and South Bend electric line, the Tama and Toledo electric line, in Iowa; the Kansas City, Fort Scott and Memphis, the Kansas City, Memphis and Birmingham, and the Kansas City, Clinton and Springfield railroads.

TO CLEAN NICKEL.
Nickel bath-room fixtures and other "trimmings" about the house, are ornamental, if kept bright; but keeping nickel bright is what many housekeepers dread. True, this is not easy, unless one has Gold Dust, but this may be obtained at any grocery. The rest is easy.
Make a warm suds, using Gold Dust, and wash the nickel fixtures with a cloth. If very dim, rub a little of the Gold Dust directly upon the surface, rinse, and rub dry with a piece of soft linen or flannel. Nickel lightly washed each week in Gold Dust and warm water, then wiped with a soft cloth, will never get dull and will never need hard rubbing, but is as easy to keep bright and clean as a piece of glass.
